Challenge

Atlas Systems has marquee customers within the Financial Services & Life Sciences industry segments and wanted to further expand their level of influence within these segments, by targeting other potential accounts. This also warranted the need to reassess the Total Addressable Market (TAM), as well as redefine their Ideal Customer Persona (ICP), in order to validate their RevOps roadmap. On top of that, they were looking for assistance in generating sales-ready leads to boost their revenue

ResponsePoint's team of data analysts utilized a scientific approach to determine the Total Addressable Market (TAM) and further identify high-potential accounts with firmographic relevance to Atlas Systems' existing prominent customers, leveraging their proprietary 'Clone your Customers' process. Additionally, the Human Data Assistants thoroughly researched each of the selected target accounts to pinpoint decision-makers, economic buyers, and influencers aligned with the new Ideal Customer Persona (ICP). The activated lead data was then integrated into a high-touch outreach campaign. Through their omnichannel efforts, ResponsePoint generated over 160 Sales Qualified Leads (SQLs), contributing to a spike in new business revenue. Moving forward, the ResponsePoint Revenue Intel Dashboard enabled tracking of market penetration in relation to RevOps performance.
